THE 1927
TECHNALA

A Year Book Issued by the Students
of
Alabama College
Montevallo, Ala.

Foreword

The staff of the Technala humbly submits this History of the year 1927, with the sincere hopes that is will keep alive in your memory the days, bright or shadowed, which have become the Past instead of the Present.

Dedication

Because he is faithful, because he is dependable, because he is willing to help with the small things as with the larger ones, and because of his years of knightly service, we do dedicate this volume of the Technala to our Mr. Robinson

Dr. Carmichael, Our President

YE CAMPUS

"So dear, so near—so poignant in our memories."

"Sunshine, flecked in gold, fill the happy hours."

"With beauty spilling out on every side,
Flooding the earth with its sweet-scented tide."

"A rapture tips the thin green leaves with light,
And showers quivering gold upon the grass."

"Where our halls rise in glory toward the skies."

"The columns spread their slender shadows
Across the feathery grace of earth."

LIFE SAVERS

That bunch of girls over there on the court? Why, that's our basketball team. Yes, I'll be glad to tell you about them. But first there's Miss Kent over there. She's the coach, and if you'd like to see the chief reason that we have such a good team, just look at her. What she doesn't know about basketball is not worth knowing—and she knows how to put it across, too.

Of course, that's Margaret—the captain—and there are so many nice things to say about her and so few words to say them with that I hardly know where to begin. You know, she's the best all-round girl in school, so being our captain is just one of her many stellar roles. And being captain isn't the extent of Margaret's usefulness. She plays the old game with speed, with surety and with strength—in other words, "with her head." Along with her playing she has a spirit of interest, loyalty and co-operation that makes us hate to lose Margaret—our star player, captain, and all-round good sport.

You say that girl is mighty little to be a basketball player? Well, all I can say is, Tope may be little, but when it comes to basketball, she's also mighty loud. Stonewall Jackson couldn't stop Tope once she got her hands on the ball. She'd merely dodge around him with a quick dribble and have the ball in the goal before he could turn around.

Those two over there with their arms around each other are Ruth and Let Jones. You ought to see those sisters play. Let's a guard, and woe to the forward who falls to her. Lightning itself hasn't a thing on her. And how she can break up a dribble. We wouldn't take anything for Let.

Ruth's a forward, and she's just as big an asset. When Ruth has the ball, it just seems that the goal is a magnet, and all she has to do is give the ball a start and it goes right in.

That pretty little girl on the right is Pauline McCord. She's just a freshman, and she hasn't had time yet to show all that she can do; but as fast a player and as good a shot as she is now, by the time she's a senior I'll be sorry for those who come up against her.

Melba Griffin graduates this year, and how we hate to lose her. Her floor work is always sure and speedy, and when it comes to good, steady guarding, Melba is mighty hard to beat.

The group of tall girls? The one with the cap on is Grace Berryman. That girl is a born basketball player. You can put her in any position in the field, and she hops right in and plays. She's Jack-of-all-trades, and master of all.

The girl in red is Susie Kearly. Excuse me from being guarded by Susie. She's impossible to get around, and she's grand at getting signals and at passing. We are surely proud to have her on our team, and have you heard of Inez Hart, guard? She lets her opponent get the ball, and that's all. When she gets it there's nothing to do with it, for Inez doesn't give her a chance to move. We don't worry about the forward Inez guards.

Yes, the one with the long hair is Elvie Whitley. She's a Freshman, but she plays like a veteran. She gets the tip-off and then reaches the goal just in time to receive the ball and put it in.

What did you say? We must have a grand team? Why of course we have. How else could they have defeated the state champions of Tennessee? Yes, they're all good sports, and to tell you the truth, Alabama College is mighty proud of them.

The Faculty

It gives us peculiar pleasure to present Dr. Carmichael

This is Mr. South. He teaches Education, or some'p'nother.

This individual is Dr. Napier.

Angel Puppy's Side-Partner.

This is Miss Stallworth's picture. Whose picture is this? Miss Stallworth's. That's right, Miss Stallworth's.

Don't judge Miss Vickory by this picture, because it is a well known psychological fact that there is little correlation between appearance and intelligence.

Girls, "this may seem atrocious," but this is Miss Blackeston.

Let every girl know Dr. Barton.

We wish to introduce, er, that is, er, this is Dr. James, er, that is, er.

We don't know if our method is the right method, but this is our method of presenting Mrs. Lewis.

The Classes

Senior

Motto: "It's too late to be sorry now"

Colors: Red and Yellow Flower: Old Maid

Uniform: Night Cap and Gown

We have omitted the pictures of this class because they fail to do justice to its beauty and dignity. We wish, however, to say a few words concerning this class which, of course, is the most remarkable one in history.

In its freshman year it distinguished itself by flunking Math. In its sophomore year it flunked "Math" again. In its junior year it flunked again, and also heaped honors upon itself by presenting "Wild Nell, or Her Final Sacrifice," for the first time. In its senior year it attended the Founder's Day exercises "ninety-seven strong." Extra credit was given for finding the "ninety" in "ninety-seven," and it passed Math.

Junior

Motto: "Per bluffings ad diplomam"

Color: Brilliant Green Flower: Dandy-lyin'

Sophomore

Motto: "I know all things (with the aid of a book)"

Colors: (Camouflaged) Flower: The Shrinking Violet

Freshman

Motto: "Our standing's with reluctant feet"

Colors: Dull Green Flower: Blooming Idiot

Organizations

1. The Senate

Only those students are eligible for membership in this organization who have succeeded in failing in more than one subject. Great honor is due these students, as they have dauntlessly obtained their goal in spite of Official Busies, private conferences with the Dean, and the voice of ambition. Great assistance, however, was given to these students by the Strand Theatre, the Infirmary, Examinations, Montevallo's two drug stores, and Freshman Math.

The purpose of this organization is to keep the campus beautiful. Its chief project for this year has been to induce students to walk on the grass in order to preserve the sidewalks.

2. The Campus Club

Members . . . . . Jane Stallworth, Emmie Carter

3. Society for Fostering the Welfare of Cats

President . . . . . Miss Weimer
Vice-President, Secretary-Treasurer . . . . . Miss Early
Members . . . . . All Practice Home Girls
Honorary Member . . . . . Miss Vickory

4. The Alabama Slayers

(They really are killing)

Only those are admitted to this society who have successfully been denied entrance into the Dramatic Club. Offices can be held only by those who have been denied two or more times. This is one of the largest organizations on the campus, having taken in seventy-five new members this year.

Publications

1. "The Executive Board Bulletin"

Editor-in-Chief . . . . . Eloise Lee
Reporters . . . . . Ibbie Jones, Margaret Davis, Katylene Stovall

2. "The Term Theme"

This is a quarterly literary magazine published by the entire student body of Alabama College. It gives the students excellent practice in finding synonyms for words used in library books. Volumes of "The Term Theme" are being collected to be used by Mrs. Lewis' graduate students who will do their research work in trying to find an original thought in the collection.

Athletics

1. The Great Free-for-All

(Only the fittest will survive)

Practice Field . . . . . Postoffice
Time . . . . . 11:30 A. M. to 12:00 M. Daily
Participants . . . . . Entire Student Body

2. Sleep Combatting

Practice Fields . . . . . Classroom and Church

From no other branch of society is so much genuine exertion demanded. It exercises every part of the body; the eyes must be blinked rapidly; the limbs moved to prevent the slowly increasing numbness; the teeth gritted to prevent relaxation; the mind stimulated to invention of distracting thoughts.

3. Reducing

Practice Fields . . . . . Outside of Dining-Room

Excellent exercise is afforded the will power in trying to keep away from the dining-room at meal time. This branch of athletics is one of the most popular among our students.

Events

SEPTEMBER

13—Freshman Class is disillusioned on arrival to find that rooms are not appropriately decorated with rugs, curtains, pillows, and college pennants, to say nothing of guitars and boxes of candy.

14—Freshman pack to go home.

15—Freshmen are delayed in Bloch Hall deciding whether to take Miss Vickery or Miss Peter, and miss their trains. The other three classes spend the morning trying to arrange a perfect schedule consisting of no Saturday classes, no afternoon classes, and no morning classes. Chapel interfered with this plan.

17—The camp gets cleaned up. Margaret Grayson for once gets enough sardines.

28—The Freshman Class goes to Bloch Hall to get its intelligence tested. "The Army Alpha" fails to discover any.

OCTOBER

1—Fifty per cent of the campus peroxides its hair.

11—Rush Week starts. Freshmen get popular. Their popularity lasts one week.

12—Founders Day. Dr. Frank Willis Barnette surprises and delights us with an address. Seniors attend "97 strong." Where, oh, where are the grand old seniors?

21—Ghosts drift about the campus. Why are the seniors all wearing 13's?

29—Senior Class presents "The Thirteenth Chair." Did you say you didn't believe in spiritualism?

NOVEMBER

1—Mrs. Harris pays us a call. She tells us that we are greatly to be congratulated on the way in which we keep our room.

8—We try out for Scribblers' Club with a heartrending tragedy of the eternal triangle variety—and in vain!

11—Armistice Day. The Big Parade, a one-piece brass band leading. Alas! Dr. James failed to wear his sailor suit. Thrills! Barbecue, Brunswick stew, and apples!

20—Dr. James acquires the name of Morpheus—'tis a gift of his Education Classes.

DECEMBER

1—Exam cramming. "Though this be madness, yet there's method in it."

12—On which date Ann Jones again gets locked out of the dining room.

16—Faculty-Senior basketball game, at which Miss McMillan cheered so loudly that she injured the ears of all of the other fans in her vicinity.

18—After this gay social whirl, we are glad to go home for two weeks of complete rest.

JANUARY

3—Spent the day wondering why we weren't fortunate enough (or smart enough) to have had dentistry work or a nervous breakdown detaining us.

8—Honor Board meets, but is forced to adjourn early, as Jane Stallworth has only eleven instead of the usual twelve call-downs.

12—Mrs. Reynolds almanac must be a good one. It certainly pointed out the coldest night of the year for a fire drill. Drills are useless on a night like that—it will freeze any flame.

24—After a heated discussion we change the name of our annual, only to have it changed back again. Someone tells us that we have no traditions and that we must get some. We would remind her of:

31—Dr. Losey reads Macbeth. He accuses us of one time or another of having said, "A little water clears us of this deed"—maybe in other words. We confess it. We use listerine!

FEBRUARY

1—Freshman interest in Indian legends discloses fact that Sylacauga means "Buzzard's Roost." Have you ever walked from the Assembly Hall up to Sylacauga?

5—Miss Clare wins twenty points toward "M" Club by hiking.

6—A Sophomore has a blind date. Well, they say "love is blind," but the girls in the rooms above are not!!

A two-foot rule was given a laborer in a boatyard to measure an iron plate. The laborer, not being well up in the use of the rule, after spending considerable time, returned.

"Now, Mike, what is the size of the plate?"

"Well," replied Mike, with a grin of satisfaction, "it's the length of your rule and two thumbs over, with this piece of brick and the breadth of my hand and my arm from here to here, bar a finger."

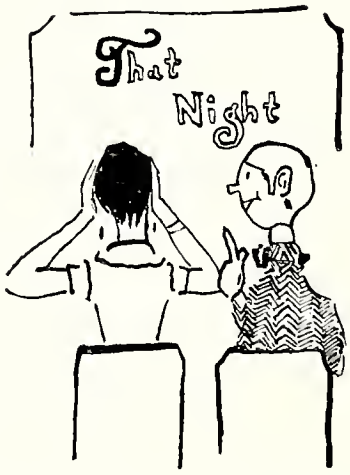
It is related that the compiler of one of our well known dictionaries was discovered by his wife indulging in unbecoming familiarity with the maid.

"Sir, I am surprised," she said in a disgusted tone of voice.

"Madam, your English is incorrect," he retorted; "on the contrary, you are astonished; I am surprised."



"They call it the silent drama, then they read the titles."

"What a whale of a difference a few cents make"

Sentences to be imposed if the reformers ever get the upper hand in the government:

The S. S. Leviathan, sixty days for lying in New York harbor.

Two maple trees, $100, for exposing their limbs on Main Street.

One lamp, thirty days, for smoking on Sunday.

One wall, $300, for being plastered.

The Hootsville Daily Bugle ordered to cease publication for stealing a march.

One revolving door, padlocked for going around with the wrong sort of people.

Seven prunes, $200 fine for being found stewed in a Twenty-seventh Street boarding house, New York.

One balloon, deflated for staying up after 9:30 p. m.

The tennis champion debarred for life playing in the United States for raising a racket.

One electric sign ordered taken down for going out by itself after 7 p. m.

A glass of water, $100, for being drunk.

One witness, $500 for swearing in court.

One carpenter, thirty days, for breaking a rule.

A high price ordered cut down for having no visible means of support.

One man, $300 fine for concealing arms in his coat sleeves.

A horse, $100 fine for breaking into a run.

"Well, why?"

"You know they say every dog has his day; well, this one has a weak end."

Ina Mae: "I got a rare old gift for Christmas; one of Caesar's coins."

Virginia: "That's nothing; I got some of Adam's chewing gum."

Better Luck Next Time

Last night my girl kicked me; nothing was left to me but suicide. I went to the drug store and bought some carbolic acid, then to the hardware store for a rope and a shotgun. I got some gasoline and matches and went to the river in a canoe. Oh, I was determined to die, all right. I rowed out into the middle, where a branch was overhanging the water, and decided to meet my fate there. I hanged myself to the limb with the rope, drank the acid, poured on the gasoline, and struck a match. I drew my gun and fired. The bullet hit the rope, I fell into the water, putting the fire out; the mud I swallowed was an antidote for the acid, and if I hadn't been a darn good swimmer, I might have drowned!
